DYNAMITE IN USE BY ARMY OF CIVILIANS

U. S. Training Camp at Monterey Scene of Campaign

Rookies in Enemy Zone Build Bridges and Chop Trees

By C. H. BAILY.

UNITED STATES MILITARY TRAINING CAMP, MONTEREY, July 19.—The Alameda county boys in training as soldiers here are chopping down trees this afternoon as part of their intensive training stunt, and so far as they have progressed on the day's program they are showing themselves to be pretty fair wood-choppers at that.

They are doing their work at the Presidio of Monterey, and it is being done for the purpose of obtaining material with which to build a bridge, a military bridge, and as soon as the bridge is completed, late this afternoon, it will promptly be blown up and demolished.

The entire civilian regiment marched to the Presidio from camp, a matter of three miles at 11:30 this morning, and upon reaching the big local military reservation were put to work by Capt. Richard Park, corps of engineers, U. S. army, to felling trees sufficient to build a bridge 60 feet long. Axes and dynamite are being used in bringing the trees to earth.

IN ENEMY COUNTRY.

The problem being worked out is that the civilian army, marching through enemy country, has reached a river impassable by bridging, and the bridge, therefore, is being blown up; the men will march across it, and the engineering detail will then demolish the structure by high explosives in order that it not be used by the enemy. Laying land mines and overcoming all sorts of obstacles commonly found in an enemy's country is part of this afternoon's work.

This morning's drill period was devoted to pitching shelter tents, drilling in company formation, both close and extended order, and the writing and transmitting of military messages based on tactical situations.

Tomorrow and Friday target practice will be specialized on. The first battalion will go to the Presidio rifle range tomorrow, and the second battalion the day after. The third battalion will have its tryouts Monday.

Out on the aviation field, which is at the Del Monte racetrack, they are flying over the training area, getting their machines into shape for actual flying, and the roar of aeronautical engines has been plainly heard in camp, half a mile from the aviation field, most of the day. Flying probably will begin tomorrow.

The machines that came here from the south bear every appearance of having gone through a train wreck, though the railroad people deny that anything of the kind occurred. Heavy parts have reached here bent and twisted and the men are getting plenty of experience in the mechanical end of flying work getting them assembled and in good shape.

The would-be aeronauts are easily the busiest men in camp at the present time, and that is saying a whole lot, because everybody in camp is quite busy all the time.

TO DANCE.

A "rookies' dance" will be given the boys in camp tonight at the Pacific Grove hotel. All the rookies are going to turn out in uniform and all the people of Pacific Grove and Monterey are going to turn out and dance with them.

The way some of these fellows can drill around in the hills all day, crawling around on their stomachs trying to make out some of the things in various other ways exhausting themselves, and then devote an entire evening to dancing, is nothing short of marvellous.

C. R. Runyan, of Coronado, a member of Company K of the civilian regiment, and a wealthy man, is the first civilian recruit to get honorable discharge from the camp for disability in line of duty. He was tossed in a blanket Sunday night because he ducked out of camp wearing civilian clothing and went to the Del Monte hotel, and during the discharge process sprained his wrist so that it would not be possible for him to handle a rifle for the balance of the camp. A couple of other Southern California recruits are in the camp hospital, but not seriously ill in any way. The health of the camp is unusually good.

Tolls Bigger; Raise Wharfinger's Salary

City Wharfinger W. J. Masterson has filed his report showing receipts for business over the city wharves for the month of June amounting to $5426.64. The council has given passage to the ordinance reorganizing the harbor department, and providing for an increase in Masterson's salary.

The report follows:

RUSSIANS CRUSH WAY THROUGH CARPATHIAN PASSES TO HUNGARY

LONDON, July 19.—Russian forces have crossed the Carpathian mountains for the first time since their defeat by the Germans a year ago and have entered Hungary after a day of marching, the Petrograd correspondent of the Evening Star reported today.

The swift Russian advance into Hungary threatens the rear of the Austrians and the Austrian lines north of the mountains, the correspondent added.

On a sixty-mile front, extending from the Jablonitz Pass in a south-easterly direction to Kirlababa, Russian and Austrian detachments are in constant clash. The main Russian line is rapidly drawing near the mountain barrier.

After vain efforts to bring up artillery over the muddy mountain roads, the Austrians have fallen back from the region southwest of Kuty and are retreating in the mountains. The Austrian front has been completely broken in the Carpathian section, twenty miles north of Jablonitz Pass.

French Strategy Captures Forts

Nine Take 113 German Prisoners

PARIS, July 19.—One of the most striking episodes of the great Somme offensive was the taking of a field fort, Blaches, and the garrison of 113 men by the French soldiers. The fort had rested throughout the artillery bombardment and the infantry attacks had been checked by murderous machine gun fire. By a lucky chance, French officers discovered the precious secret that the terrible bombardment had made the fort vulnerable at one point. Selecting a second lieutenant, two sergeants, a corporal and four men, they led them on hands and knees through the long grass to the spot where he knew there was a breach in the defenses. They reached their objective point without the Germans learning of their approach.

Abruptly three of the French officers leaped into the work, shouting "Forward with the bayonet!" and throwing bombs, which exploded in the dugout. The other six daring Frenchmen remained behind, ready to retreat if the attempt failed.

But the Germans, taken unawares, had tried to get their weapons and surrendered almost without a show of fight. When one of their number fell, shot by a revolver fired point-blank by the commanding officer, the German lieutenant, in a last-ditch effort, threw up his hands, and the French assent.

The three French captors now began to feel nervous, as they saw no reason why the Germans should not fall upon and exterminate them. But at this moment the other six hurried in. Their resolute energy imposed upon the Germans, who believed that the new arrivals were followed by many others. The German officers in the fort then threw down their arms and the entire garrison was marched to the rear, escorted by nine captors, who had not lost a man.

AMSTERDAM, July 19.—The speech the German Emperor recently made to a gathering of army chaplains at main headquarters is reported in the Vossische Zeitung by Chaplain Dr. Ott.

It is a time of sifting, said the Emperor. "The world war is separating the chaff from the wheat. You gentlemen have the task of teaching the German people to take things seriously and to accept the present as a time of trial. It is important to understand that life is a trial. We need practical Christianity to bring our lives into harmony with the personality of our Lord. We must live simply according to his acts and deeds."

"Gentlemen, how fascinating and marvellously manifold is His personality. We must study it thoroughly; we must live with the Lord."

"Suppose Christ entered at this moment through your door. Could we look into His face? Going to church once a week is not enough. We must make Him the ideal of our practical life; we must determine to live according to His teachings. You must bring sharply before the vision of God, who peels the scales from the eyes of the soul, as the judge, is now passing through the world. You must represent Him and show Him to us."

WARNERS OF DANGER.

The Emperor then dwelt on what he said he regarded as one of the most dangerous tendencies of the time—the which might deprive the German nation of the spiritual benefit of the war, namely, the tendency to find fault, to complain, to criticize.

"I often wonder how this tendency can be cured," he said. "Certainly not by expression, or laws or orders. The remedy must come from within. It must come from within. There must be peace in our hearts; then we will be strengthened for bad days and what is more difficult, for good days."

"The men who are now in the trenches will return home different men spiritually than when they left. Impress upon them that they must retain in the future the thoughts which fill them now."

CLAIMS INSPIRATION.

"Everybody must admit that our nation is great, that it is without complaint or hesitation, sacrificing everything for a great cause. This is an inspiration derived from God. Give the men in the trenches my greeting and at the same time tell them that it is that they keep firm reliance on God."

Bolt of Lightning Injures 8 Troopers

NOGALES, Ariz., July 19.—Eight troopers of the Los Angeles battery, California artillery, were confined to their quarters today, recovering from a lightning shock which partially paralyzed them during a thunderstorm last night.

Richard Rinker was severely scared by the bolt, which threw all men in the tent to the floor.

Following the crack of the lightning flash, which lit up the whole camp, there they succeeded in capturing a case of ammunition had exploded. Troopers being carried to the camp hospital on stretchers tended to confirm the rumor.

The injured men are Corporal Charles Funk, Privates Harold Deemer, John M. Harris, Richard Rinker, Andrew Edson, David Love, Harry Fisk and Chester Binkiewicz.

New Villa March Reported Near Minaca

COLUMBUS, N. M., July 19.—A report reached Columbus today that Villa is heading a large party of bandits toward Minaca, 85 miles west of Chihuahua City, on the line of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway. The rumor states that the bandit leader has discarded his crutches and is riding a horse.

Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France, and Dr. R. P. Strong of the Harvard medical school arrived here today. They declined to state the object of their visit. Dr. Strong is a specialist on tropical diseases.

Italians Scoring Gains in Posina

ROME, July 19.—A new advance of the Italians in the upper Posina valley, where they succeeded in capturing positions on Corno del Costo, was announced today by the war office. A strong attack by the Austrians on the Italian lines in the Pasubio sector was repulsed.

Fire Half Million Shells Each Day

British Bombardment in France Is Costly

LONDON, July 19.—Half a million shells daily since June 27, or a total of about 10,500,000, have been hurled on the German lines by the British, the correspondent at the front of the Morning Post reported today.

ASQUITH ADMITS CRITICISM BASIS

Mesopotamia Expedition Conduct Not Above Censure.

LONDON, July 19.—Premier Asquith intimated in the House of Commons today that there was some basis for the adverse criticism of the conduct of the British expedition in Mesopotamia. After the battle of Ctesiphon last November, he said, General Sir John Nixon, who was then in command, telegraphed that the medical arrangements were quite satisfactory.

"Thousands died," one of the members called.

Later, Asquith continued, unofficial reports were received which seemed to point to a very different state of affairs and a commission was appointed to investigate the whole matter.

In the Mesopotamian operations, the premier continued, incidents had occurred which had aroused doubt whether the best means had been adopted to bring about the ends in view.

The premier's remarks were brought out by demands for publication of the papers in regard to the Mesopotamian and Dardanelles expeditions.

Asquith said the papers could not be published without prejudicing Great Britain's enemies and prejudicing the operations now in progress in Mesopotamia.

Sir Edward Carson, one of the Mesopotamian expeditionists, said that thousands of people in this country thought it had been conducted with criminal negligence.

Relief for Guard Delayed in Council

The proposal of Commissioner F. E. Jackson to make special provision for city employees who are on duty with the state militia met with an adverse report from the civil service board today. The board questioned the legality of the city paying salaries when the men are rendering no service to the city, as also explained that the situation with regard to city employees is not a serious one, as there is only one city employee with the militia who has a family dependent upon him.

The civil service board recommended that the militia be paid only for the support of the families of men serving the country along the border, it will be appropriate to pass an ordinance appropriating a stipulated sum each month to be paid over to the committee in charge of this relief work.

The commissioners passed a resolution referring the matter to the city attorney. The question as to how the relief will be granted, and the amount of the appropriation will not be discussed until the city attorney has rendered his opinion.

Gerard to Visit in Norway and Sweden

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has advised the State Department he soon will leave Berlin for a trip to the Scandinavian peninsula. Officials of the department explained today that Gerard merely was going on a vacation without special instructions, and that no significance could be attached to his trip. He probably will visit both Norway and Sweden.

Girl Says Fighter Hurt Her; Will Sue

ROCHESTER, Minn., July 19.—Miss Fern Munroe, Canton, S. D., today swore out a warrant charging Fred Fulton, heavyweight aspirant, with assault and battery.

The Munroe girl said Fulton tossed her into Shady lake at Orondo, near the Fulton training camp. The girl's right shoulder is dislocated. She says she will sue for $5000. She was a frequent of Fulton's dancing hall here.

SURGEONS SAVE SOLDIER'S FACES

American Doctors Rebuild the Shattered Features of Wounded.

LONDON, July 19.—That horror of the soldier, a shattered face, is being abated in the British army by a set of Chicago surgeons in their field hospital near the British front today. Their success is largely due to expert dental surgery.

Colonel Dr. J. M. Neff of Chicago, head of this unit of thirty-two surgeons, Colonel Dr. George Davis of Chicago, and Dr. Sidney McCallin, formerly of Chicago, but now of London, and Major Dr. Charles Magby, eye and ear surgeon, are the Chicago surgeons performing operations on wounded men hitherto unheard of in medical science.

It is in jaw surgery that the most astonishing results have been attained. These Chicago surgeons have discovered that nearly all disfiguring wounds occur to the lower part of the face. A wound on the upper part of the head usually causes death, but wounds of the jaw do nothing but turn men's faces into caricatures.

Bullets play strange tricks with jawbones. They enter a cheek, making a small wound, shatter the jawbone and pass out through a tiny wound on the other side. The shattered bone destroyed the structural outward structural appearance of the face. In other words, the wounds were sewn up and the bones permitted to knit, if they would.

In this war, when part of a jawbone has been shattered, surgeons have carried the patient into the amphitheater. A piece of his shinbone is removed by the bone surgeons. The dental surgeon takes this piece, which has been cut to shape and desired, and puts it in place in the soldier's jaw.

Photographs show that men who came to the surgeons with disfigured faces have departed with their faces normal except for a scar or two that looks as though it might have been caused by a razor slip. These marvelous operations are every day events now.

CALIFORNIANS FLEE FROM GUAYMAS

Mexican Conditions Are Intolerable, Americans Report.

GUAYMAS, Mex., July 19.—One thousand Mexican troops have arrived at Guaymas from Sonora and are awaiting transportation today to southern points. The movement has no military significance, according to the commanders, but is designed apparently to keep the soldiers contented by shifting them from place to place as successive food supplies become exhausted.

The following Americans from various points in the interior have taken refuge aboard the flagship San Diego of the United States fleet: C. C. Vick and V. M. Power, both of Los Angeles, together with A. Christopher, a fish expert of Poughkeepsie, Wash., all of whom have been engaged in the fishing industry in the upper Gulf of California; W. C. Plank and F. J. Plank of San Jose, Cal., who were compelled to abandon their gold mine at Aguila Bay, Lower California; T. J. Corvillan of Houston, Tex.; Z. Z. Termerman, El Paso; J. Beards and C. Hayes of Santa Ana, Cal., all of whom are from the United States Sugar Company plantations near Los Mochis, Sonora; J. V. Shadden of New York, who has been operating a mine at Choix, Sonora; A. Wallander of Omaha, Neb., from the silver mine at Villa Corona, Durango, and Mrs. V. Angell of New York.

All of the Americans were disheartened by conditions existing in their respective districts and were unanimous in expressing the conviction that no improvement was possible until a rehabilitation of the country's now worthless currency becomes possible.

Connecticut Port Looks for Diver

NEW YORK, July 19.—Publication by a New York morning newspaper today of a report that another German "U-boat" submarine, sister ship of the Deutschland, was about to dock at Bridgeport, Conn., created fear at the Connecticut seaport today, but not a soul could be found there who knew anything about the matter. Collector of the Port James H. McGovern said he was without information. Firms along the waterfront reported employees had been scanning the harbor since dawn, but without seeing a periscope.

Turkish Submarines Score Against Russ In Black Sea Fight

BERLIN, July 19.—Three large enemy transports were sunk by submarines in the eastern part of the Black Sea, and a fourth forced to run ashore, according to an official statement from the Turkish admiralty, received here today. Since the Grand Duke Nicholas assumed command in the Caucasus and began his offensive the Russians have moved many thousand troops to the Caucasus by steamer rather than by marches overland. While the statement is silent on the subject of losses, the presumption is that several thousand Russian soldiers were drowned.

French Gain at Verdun Somme Front Is Quiet

PARIS, July 19.—French troops made further progress against the German line at Verdun in the northeast of Verdun in the fighting last night, according to the official statement in the direction of the Meuse, particularly around Fleury.

Thirty Paralysis Deaths in Day

NEW YORK, July 19.—Both deaths and new cases in the infantile paralysis epidemic took another jump today. During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 a. m. today the disease killed 30 children and attacked 142 others in the five boroughs of New York City. This is an increase of 150 per cent in both the mortality rate and development of the plague in the last forty-eight hours.

Germans Plan to Bar Enemy Language

AMSTERDAM, July 19.—The suggestion that German educational institutions abolish forever the teaching of French and English in their school work has been endorsed by the leading Berlin newspapers, according to information here today. The suggestion came from a pamphlet written by Adolf Reinecke, a German author.

George sent the following message yesterday to General Sir Douglas Haig, commanding the British troops on the Franco-Belgian front:

"The continued successful advance of my troops fills me with admiration and I send my best wishes to all ranks. The emperor of Russia has asked me to convey his warm congratulations to the troops upon the success they have achieved."

(Signed) "GEORGE, R. I."

General Haig replied as follows:

"The British armies in France offer most respectful and grateful thanks for this further mark of your majesty's gracious appreciation of their efforts. They have achieved. They also respectfully beg that their grateful acknowledgments be conveyed to the emperor of Russia for his majesty's congratulations."

FAMINE PERIL NO LONGER IS TEUTON FEAR

Galician Fields Promise Immediate Food Supply

Edible Fat From Bones Is Newest German Discovery

BERLIN, July 19.—The food situation in both Germany and Austria-Hungary is showing considerable improvement.

Harvesting has begun in Galicia, and the first reports indicate a good crop. An Austro-Hungarian commission, empowered to make an agricultural agreement, arrived in Berlin today. The prospects of an agreement being reached are most favorable. Such an understanding would be of great aid in relieving the shortage in Germany, since the dual monarchy possesses more food than the German empire.

A new discovery by a police lieutenant who spent his idle moments studying the food question, has been announced. By a process known only to himself, the lieutenant can make bone produce 25 per cent fat fit for human consumption. How practicable the discovery will prove to be is not yet known.

Bread, butter, meat and similar goods are disappearing in the cities of Aachen (Aix-la-Chapelle), Wresden, Stuttgart and Strassburg, where they have been supplanted by food books. Berlin may adopt a similar plan.

ART SMITH TO TAKE SHIP HOME

Aviator to Leave Japan Tomorrow With Purse Raised by Orientals.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Art Smith, the American aviator, who recently sustained serious injuries when he fell during an exhibition flight in Japan, will sail from Japan tomorrow on the liner Empress of Russia, according to Tokyo newspapers which reached here today.

For the past three weeks a committee of prominent Japanese men, headed by Count Okuma, premier of the empire, has been raising a purse to be presented to the flyer before his departure. A large fund has been raised to recompense Smith for the money he lost by inability to fly because of injuries and by the necessity of carrying all of his American engagements this summer.

Atlantic Facing Another Storm

Gale Approaching East Coast at 64-Mile Rate

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Another West Indian storm like that which recently struck the Gulf coast at Mobile and Pensacola, today is moving over the Atlantic 850 miles directly east of Charleston, S. C. It may sweep the coast from Virginia to Maine should it continue in its path with its present intensity.

Weather Bureau reports by radio from vessels at sea indicate a wind velocity of sixty-four miles an hour to the southward of the assumed location of the storm center. From all reports at hand, the Weather Bureau today said, the storm appeared to be of pronounced form.

Storm warnings today were ordered all along the coast from Wilmington, N. C., to Boston, 8500.

CACHED COCAINE IN BANK VAULTS

French Capital Has Big Fight Against Venders of Deadly Drug.

PARIS, July 19.—They have as much trouble with the cocaine traffic in Paris as they do in New York, Chicago, Cleveland, San Francisco and other American cities. The tricks resorted to by law breaking venders of the "snow" are quite as ingenious as a shrewd American could "pull."

Today the police discovered a new one. Jean Nardin, a pharmacist, hit upon the happy idea of keeping his stock of "coke" in safety deposit boxes at the Credit Lyonnais. The police arrested him and he's just been put in prison and fined $500.

MOST BLACKLIST VICTIMS IN N. Y.

Former German Connections, They Say, Cause of British Act.

NEW YORK, July 19.—With very few exceptions, all of the American business firms and individuals placed by the British government on the blacklist under the "trading with the enemy act" have their headquarters in New York City. Most of these merchants expressed no surprise today over the action of Great Britain. J. A. Kahn, an exporter and importer, said:

"This blacklist has been in the hands of my bankers all over the world at least a year to my personal knowledge. I have known for more than a year that I, for one, have been blacklisted. I am and have been for twenty years an American citizen. Not only has my business, which has been mainly with China, Japan, and Eastern countries, been broken off completely by seizure of goods, but I have been unable to buy bills of exchange or in any other way to settle my affairs. Others have been unable to get bills of exchange through me."

Alfred Richter, a trader with Chinese and Japanese merchants, made a similar complaint.

"My goods have been seized at Hongkong and elsewhere regularly," he said, "until I stopped doing business. My mail to my agents in Canton, Tientsin and other cities was returned to me. The reason, so far as I can guess, is that once, almost thirty years ago, I was connected with a German firm."

Richter said he had been a citizen of the United States for twenty-five years.

Civilization Too Much for Juan

Would Return to Peaceful April

The age of wonder has passed. When the Aztecs first caught sight of Cortez and his followers upon horses, they mistook them for gods. But when Juan Tyden-geseruz of Guam, principal island of the Ladrone group, saw automobiles, railroad trains and skyscrapers for the first time in San Francisco he did not regard them as divine creations. He marveled at them, it is true, but after the first curiosity had passed, his soft brown eyes grew wistful.

"I don't like it here," he said. "I want to go home."

Juan is 20 years old and the son of a rich planter. For years he had begged his father to let him go forth into the world and verify the wonderful tales told to him by sailor visitors to his island home. When the schooner Bertha Dolbeer sailed into April harbor in April, Juan made up his mind that he would restrain his wanderlust no longer. He shipped as a sailor and yesterday came through the Golden Gate for his first glimpse of civilization.

His eyes widened with surprise at the sights of Market street—the strange whizzing vehicles running without animals to draw them, the tall buildings that seemed to touch his vault above, the flashing electric signs coming and going mysteriously. But this is not the life for Juan; he prefers the quiet of the rice fields and the rush of the monsoons. He is going back to Guam at the first opportunity.

ASKS I. W. W. TO ASSIST STRIKERS

Haywood Makes Plea for Aid in Iron Range Labor War.

DULUTH, Minn., July 19.—William D. Haywood, general secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., one of the leaders in the strike agitation on the Minnesota iron range, issued the following appeal to Duluth members of the organization today:

"Fellow Workers: I can see the battle line growing stronger, more powerful skirmishes taking place every day; self-disciplined workers exerting their powers on the job in every line of industry, not for themselves alone, but for the good of the working class."

"These are side-slits of the real revolution."

"The strike on the iron range is growing in proportion. All the available organizers are on the range. One miner has been murdered, two wounded and several are in jail. Funds are needed."

"The miners must win this strike and can do it with our aid. It will be the biggest blow to the steel trust since the I. W. W. strike at McKee's Rocks. Get up steam for funds, which can be sent to headquarters."

Boys Who Averted Wreck Are Honored

In recognition of their services in preventing what might have been an accident, C. H. Ketchum, superintendent of the Stockton division of the Southern Pacific, has presented two gold watches to two boys, Frank Haffensperger, aged 11, and Clayton Shaeley, aged 12, of Livermore, who were on duty at the time with their names and bear the legend: "Presented in recognition of their heroic act, June 4, 1916."

On that date the irrigating canal of the Crocker-Huffman Land and Water Company broke and the water rushed over the tracks near Arena. Seeing the danger the boys stationed themselves along the right of way and flagged train No. 49 as it came along. The company has also expressed its appreciation of the efforts of W. L. Haffensperger and his wife and of A. N. Shaeley.

To Overcome Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Wrinkles

If your skin is unduly reddened, freckled or tanned, dab a liberal amount of ordinary mercurized wash on the face and allow it to remain overnight. When you wash off the wax in the morning, the flaky, almost invisible particles of skin come off. Repeating this daily, the entire outer skin is absorbed, but so gradually, there's not the slightest inconvenience. Even the stubbornest freckles are affected. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so fresh and youthful-looking you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually discard aged, faded, muddy or blotchy complexion. One ounce of mercurized wash is sufficient in any drug store, is sufficient in any case.

REPUBLICANS SHOULD IMMEDIATELY CALL A STATE CONFERENCE.

Since the opening of the campaign for the nomination of a presidential candidate several months ago, The TRIBUNE has favored the amalgamation of the Republicans and Progressives, a result which was accomplished nationally at Chicago in June. The TRIBUNE has been and now is equally anxious for harmonious co-operation between the two parties in California. The TRIBUNE has refrained from expressing any preference as between Republican candidates seeking nomination for State and county offices at the primary election.

Directly contrary to this policy there was held in San Francisco Saturday, July 8th, a gathering of Progressives. The great majority attending this conference decided to organize a Progressive-Republican political faction in California, with the avowed purpose of favoring at the primary, candidates representing one faction in the Republican party. In one instance this conference openly endorsed by name one candidate for United States Senator.

Chester H. Rowell of Fresno, one of the two members from California of the Hughes National Republican Campaign Committee, participated in this conference and was appointed a member of a committee to organize throughout the State of California the faction in the interest of one candidate for the United States senatorship, and presumably to induce members of the former Progressive party to nominate only members of that faction for other offices in the Republican party.

The spirit of this conference was, as certain leaders of the Progressive party in California have always been, opposed to harmony and amalgamation with the Republican party. Governor Johnson and other speakers advocated continued factional animosity as the sole policy to guide the Progressive-Republican faction.

Rowell's conduct since this conference has been calculated to accentuate factional lines and promote the interest of the factional candidate whom he favors.

The Progressive conference in San Francisco of July 8th has established a precedent for Republicans.

The Republicans of California should at the earliest practicable date hold a State convention, such as was held to nominate candidates for delegates to the Republican national convention to select a presidential candidate, following the action of Progressives, who at that time already had named a factional ticket of delegates. This former convention was composed of members of the Republican State Central Committee and of the various county central committees of the State. They met as individuals and not in their capacity as committeemen.

They were selected to compose the convention because they were the proper representatives of the Republican party throughout the State, the county committeemen having been elected at the primary and the State Central Committee having been selected at the last State convention.

A call for a similar convention should be issued immediately.

The convention should agree upon a candidate for United States Senator, inasmuch as the Southern part of the State, which is entitled to the senatorship, has failed to reach an agreement.

The success of the Republican party is being jeopardized.

There is too much at stake to permit individuals to make it possible for minority candidates to be endorsed at a party primary.

The party is bigger than any individual.
Let this call be issued without delay.

THE NEW LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

Among all the men suggested to Governor Johnson for appointment to fill the vacancy in the lieutenant-governorship caused by the death of Mr. John M. Eshleman, several months ago, Representative William D. Stephens was unquestionably the ablest. His appointment will, therefore, generally be accepted as adding ability to the State government which will stand out conspicuously at Sacramento.

Mr. Stephens has been a member of Congress nearly six years and has made a good record in that body. He has attained a place on the naval affairs committee, one of the most important of the House committees, and one of the most important committees held by a California member. The State had cause to be deeply interested in Mr. Stephens' work in connection with naval questions and program and there will be general regret that he must resign. No new member from this State is likely to get Mr. Stephens' place and certainly it will be some time before any other Californian is in a position to wield such influence as he did.

Mr. Stephens was known in Washington, as he is at home, as an able Congressman and a thorough Californian. He was not a radical and had won the confidence of his colleagues to a degree.

While we regret that the State will lose his services in Congress, when many matters of legislation with which he is thoroughly acquainted are pending, we are glad that the lieutenant-governorship is in capable hands. We can say this with full cognizance of the political motives that led to Mr. Stephens' appointment.

PETERSEN, POLICE OFFICIAL.

It ought to be patent to all observing citizens of Oakland that a great and quite unnecessary injustice is being done Acting Chief of Police Petersen through the intemperate methods of the candidates and their friends in the present recall election campaign. There was no reasonable excuse nor honorable motive for making Captain Petersen an issue in this campaign of small issues.

It is hardly necessary for us to say to our readers and friends that we do not approve Captain Petersen's public advocacy of his views on the so-called underworld problem, and much less do we endorse his action in traveling to other cities to defend organized immorality. But it is manifestly unfair to magnify the importance of Captain Petersen's personal views on a debatable question until it obscures his ability and worth as a police officer and an administrator of a police system. This latter seems to us of inestimably greater importance. The point which should be given first consideration is whether or not Captain Petersen, as chief or acting chief of police, has to his greatest ability enforced the laws and city ordinances and whether he has given the city the fullest possible measure of good order and protection. It is a curious fact that the opponents of Captain Petersen fail to cite specific instances of dereliction of official duty, the very things the people should know about if they exist.

It is worthy of note here that the police department of Oakland is shown by the records to be one of the most efficient in the country. In point of efficiency it ranks with St. Louis, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington. It stands among the first four or five departments in the country for preventing crime, apprehending criminals and protecting life and property. It has a better record than that of the chemically pure city of the southland. This was far from the case ten years ago and for the significant change nine-tenths of the credit is due to the personal efforts and ability of Captain Petersen. He has become recognized as one of the ablest police chiefs of the country.

We state these facts in the spirit of fair play. A city cannot afford to be unappreciative of splendid public service, and just as there are two sides to every question, there are two sides to Captain Petersen's public record.

Those candidates for office who are making their race on the promise that they will fire forthwith any officer from a charter civil service position are dealing in the veriest "bunk" for the special benefit of "bunkable" voters. And we fail to see any point to the efforts of office-seekers to prevent Captain Petersen from talking before a group of police clinicians at the State University on a phase of police work. It is small and unworthy of them and casts a shadow on their fitness for public office.

PASSING THE BUCK.

Colonel Roosevelt got a letter from Mr. W. H. Hill of Detroit explaining and apologizing for the criticism expressed in the meeting of Michigan Progressives of the Colonel's action in declining to lead the Bull Moosers through another presidential campaign. He replied in this manner:

"That's a mighty nice letter of yours, straight-forward and manly. I am very glad you feel that I took the right course. As Raymond Robins said, it was not I who deserted the Progressive party, it was the Progressive party that deserted us. In New York State, for instance, I continued to fight hard up to the time that seven-eighths of our party left us. It then became impossible for me to accomplish anything."

NOTES and COMMENT

An auto thief hires five lawyers, which shows how profitable the industry is.

Congress is to adjourn in a month. But a month is a long time—some thirty days.

Chester Rowell is impressive in protesting against any Republican course of action. The Republican party is dead, according to Chester. He said so two years ago and celebrated the obsequies.

Secretary McAdoo is to resign from the cabinet and accept a job on the Federal Reserve board, likely to last a considerable while longer than the one he is now filling. At least, that is the story in the despatches.

An expert says that forgers are unusually stupid, which is not exactly plain, seeing that they so often outwit the allied banking wisdom, and evade all the safeguards. It is true, however, that they generally get caught in the end.

Villa is dead again. "Pershing's troops will be out of Mexico within a month." Whenever it becomes necessary for our troops to take a back action it appears to be necessary to have Villa dead. However, nothing herein is to be construed as hoping he is not dead.

Former President Castro at Venezuela will soon be a pretty good imitation of Edward Everett Hale's "Man Without a Country." He has been refused a landing here and Porto Rico will not have him, while other countries show definite lack of desire for his presence.

In reading the war news, when you reach such easy ones as the village of Lipa and the river Bug, you plume yourself on a ready conquest, of those unusual names; but when you fall upon Bazentin-le-Petit-bois, Rakishki, Bucquoy, Oviliers, and many others, your conceit is not so rampant.

The Supreme Court is to have a whack at the proposition of free railroad fare for the Railroad Commission. There is no doubt that it is more or less humorous for others to enjoy passes, but the commission is endeavoring to show that it is entitled to privileges that the common horde ought not to aspire to.

ART AS "JUNK"

Paris courts, according to a special cable despatch, have decided that dealers in antique works of art come within the scope of the law governing old junk sellers.

The American public is requested to imagine as junk dealers several of the great New York firms importing antique art, with whom single transactions sometimes mount up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars and even pass the million dollar mark. But there is another, perhaps equally humorous, aspect to the question.

If art dealers are junkmen, will junkmen become art dealers? Should an art collector desire to purchase a Rembrandt, will he go to one of the great galleries, or will he sit quietly at home reading until he hears the jangling of discordant bells and a voice "with folds in it" shouting, "Nice fresh Rembrandts this morning!" or "Bouquers by the bunch!" Have the Paris courts thought of this possible result of their decision should the theory of antique art promulgated by them find acceptance in other countries?

Then there are the collectors of antique art to be considered. They thought they were collecting art. Now, under this decision of the Paris courts, must they conclude that they have been collecting junk? Perish the thought! Apply the principle of reductio ad absurdum to the decision. It defeats itself.—New York Herald.

"ORIGINAL" HUGHES MAN.

The secretary of the Oregon Republican State Committee, who was an assistant secretary of the Chicago convention, has reached home and the Portland Oregonian brings his account of the occasion. He says the one thing about the convention that impressed him was the good work of the Oregon delegation. Before their arrival the Hughes movement had nothing to do. The men came on instructed by state primary and "did it" not been for their effective campaigning the result might have been different. This is interesting and, no doubt, agreeable for the Oregon man to think of. At the same time we have an idea that Hughes would have been nominated even if the Oregon train had been sidetracked and had not arrived. The "original Hughes man" is to be found in every State.—Hartford Courant.

GLADDER THE HONORS.

As an object lesson in preparedness, it is interesting to note that the state troops from the most remote corner of the country—New England—were the first to reach the Mexican border. The troops from other sections, allowing for difference in travel time, should have been there at least three or four days ahead of the Massachusetts men, but our boys and those from New York State, although five days on the road and covering a distance of more than 2500 miles, by rail, not only got into the border stations ahead of them, but arrived at the Rio Grande before some of the other state troops had even left their home stations.—Springfield Union.

BOON COMPANIONS.

Upon the scroll of fame you will not find his name engraved.
He is unknown to history, no wars he ever braved.
He is a common citizen of not much sentiment,
Who always helps me out when I am due to pay the rent.

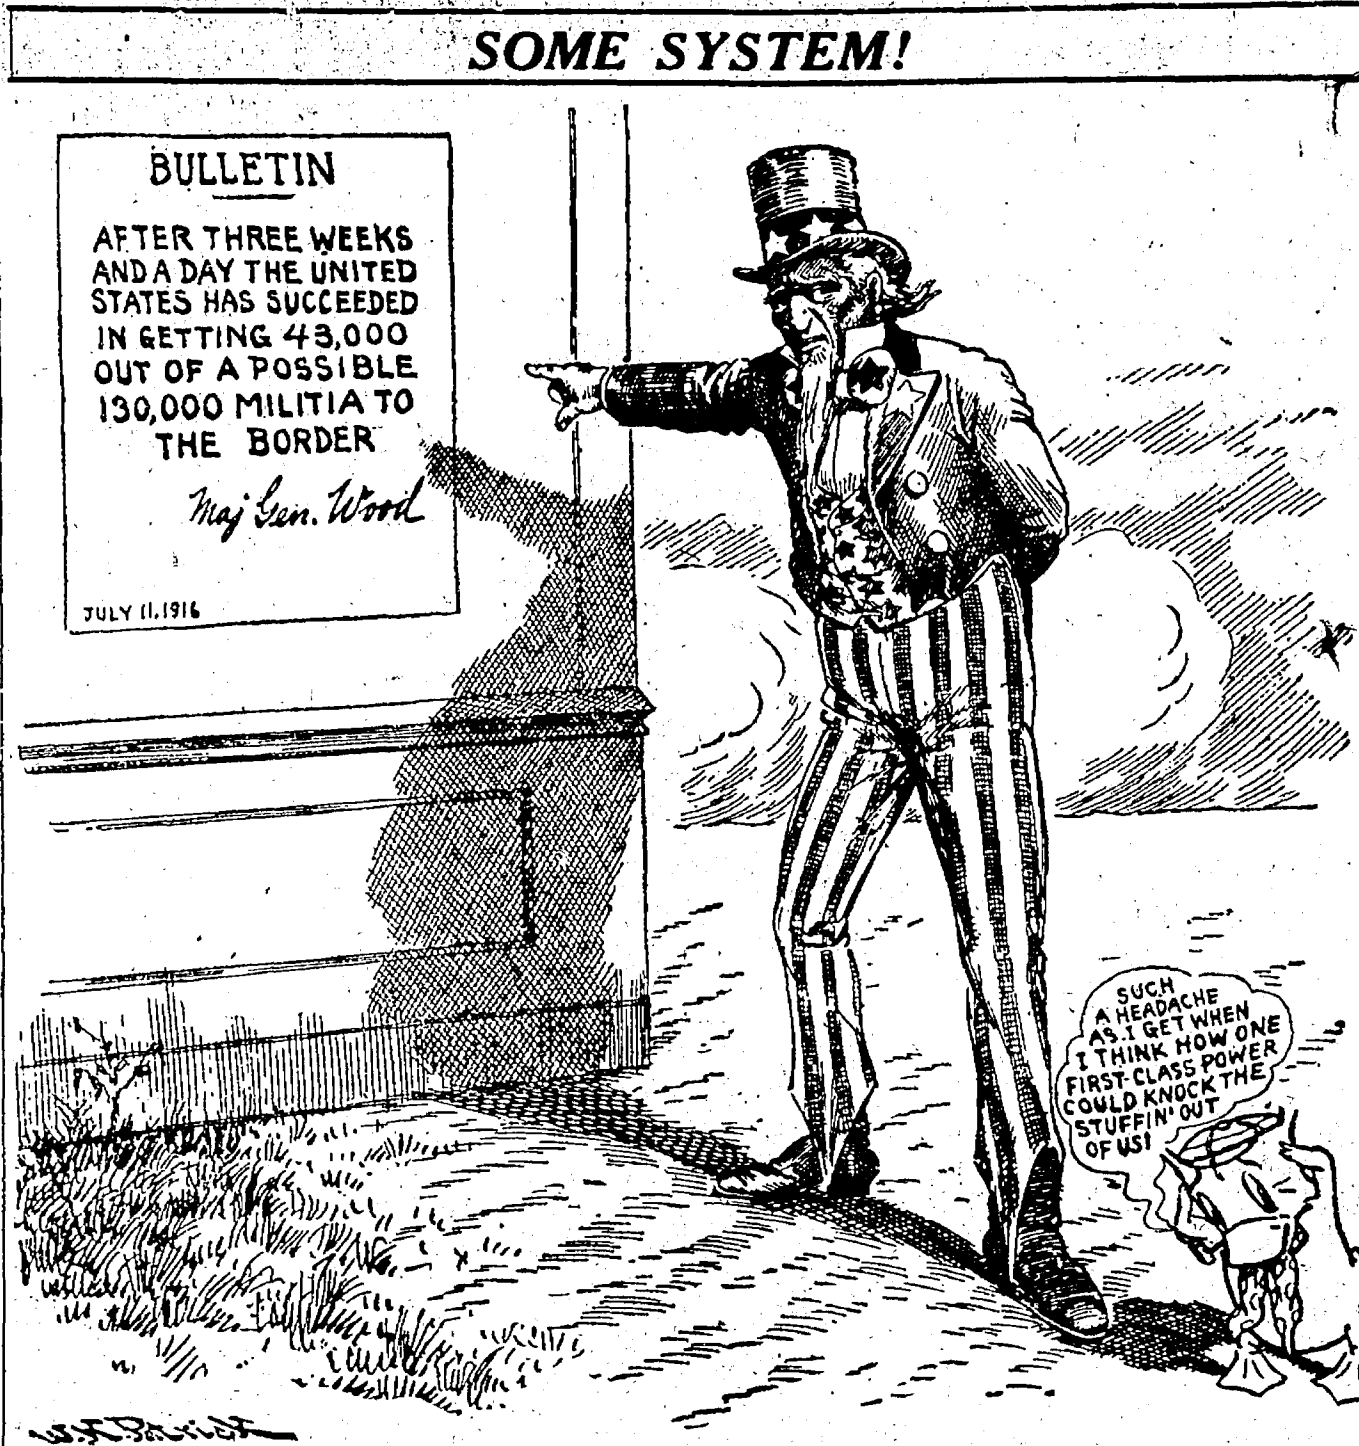

When he invites me out to dine I never can refuse.
The bill of fare that pleases him I always also choose.

When he goes on a fishing trip I always go along;
And when he lies about his catch I back him good and strong.

He lingers there in Perkins' store until the lights burn low;
He fabricates the same as I until it's time to go.

I always pay his debts—and, nay, he settles debts of mine.
I take all money paid to him—a system that is fine.

THE FORUM

They will not as a rule be printed unless accompanied by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication.

AS TO THE OPEN SHOP.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

The East Bay Employers' Association's statement as published by you this date presents several amusing contradictions and several absolutely false statements, to which I would like to call your attention.

(A) "To secure for employers and employees the freedom of individual contract in the matter of employment."

(B) "To unify the actions of its members upon matters where united and concerted action and a determined, fixed policy may seem wise and necessary."

It would seem to a man up a tree that "freedom" and "unity" as used in the above would mean disruption for labor and unity for business. This, in fact, is exactly what exists wherever the E. B. E. A. controls.

In the matter of a limited number of apprentices they say "As a consequence only a limited number can learn a trade. An employer's sons may not learn their father's trade except with the consent of the union. Graduates from these schools (trade schools) are discriminated against."

The above is a misstatement. An employer's son or a graduate of a trade school are entered in the union on the same terms as any other applicant.

In the early youth of unionism it was found that employers, by leaving each apprentice on one special kind of work, could, by careful systematizing use many apprentices under the eye of one journeyman. This was carried to such an extreme that in the largest iron works on the Pacific coast there were at one time as many as twenty apprentices to one journeyman, the journeyman acting merely as foreman and in the final assembling and adjusting of the completed machine. Had this condition continued, what would have become of the twenty after learning their trade?

"We believe every workman should be encouraged to produce more instead of less as he would earn more."

Yes. He would earn more for the moment, until by the reduction of forces some fellow workman, laid off, would offer to work for less. Piece work is never paid for in the end at the same rate as at the beginning of the system. It would seem as though the employer would be so pleased to see his product and net profit doubled that he would let well enough alone, but piece rates are constantly readjusted so that the clever and rapid worker just receives enough to live on and sometimes not that.

Speaking of the business agent "he can, for any cause or whim, call 100 or 1000 men off a job and none have any idea why it is done."

This is false. Every move of a trade union official is made under orders of the rank and file, as witness the strike votes, compromise votes and other long processes that are even now being featured in the newspapers. These orders are sometimes given to a business agent to be carried out upon the happening of a condition subsequent. It is on these occasions that our ignorant friends of the E. B. E. A. think that it is an off-hand proceeding.

The way that figures and percentages are juggled with is enough to make "The Thinker" laugh. They say "not to exceed three per cent of the population of the United States are members of labor unions" and "the approbrious name of 'scab' is applied to the other 97 per cent."

ARGENTINA'S CENTENNIAL

Like the English colonies which became our United States, the "United Provinces of the Rio de la Plata," declaring their independence on July 9, 1816, had to make good their assertions by a long war. The Argentine struggle lasted from 1817 to 1824. It was not until 1842 that Spain conceded to Argentina her freedom.

Having achieved liberty by their arms the Plata provinces fell apart and were not brought together until 1851, when Buenos Ayres, Entre Rios, Corrientes and Santa Fe agreed upon a union which they invited the other provinces to enter. Anarchy was the answer. There was no stable government until some time after the adoption of a Constitution in 1853, for Buenos Ayres repeatedly refused to accept the document. Argentina's present prosperous estate is the work of the last fifty years. Her growth may be said to have paralleled ours since we emerged from the wastage of our civil war.

How great that growth has been is better indicated by telling details than by impressive statistics. In Buenos Ayres scrubwomen get $3 a day. The fee for membership in a well known club is $1500. The membership is not small either. Travelers leaving Buenos Ayres sometimes journey a whole day on an express train without once losing sight of enormous herds of grazing cattle. In La Prensia the country has a newspaper with correspondents in all parts of the world, from whom it receives, at the cost of heavy cable tolls, dispatches that fill three pages daily. The Argentinian has replaced the North American as the personification of unlimited riches in European eyes. His is the country of magnificent earnings—and of equally magnificent prices as well.

How vexed the old Spanish conquistadores would be were they alive today at the pastoral wealth they overlooked here. In their view the only wealth was silver and gold; they exulted in the riches of Peru and left the region of the La Plata to shift for itself, having found that the Parana and Paraguay rivers hid none of the silver that the early explorers had dreamed of finding. But this very neglect was Argentina's good fortune. Her colonists were left to develop the country for themselves; when the wars of the Liberation came they found few sentimental ties to bind them to Spain, and they possessed already the spirit of self-help necessary to insure the future of their country.—New York Sun.

place of men who have shown their ability to co-operate with their fellows and who have obeyed the voice of the majority by going on strike, in the words, a strike breaker. The "approbrious name" is applied to the man whom the employers themselves are glad to ditch after he has served their purpose. ### TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Lyons Woman's Relief Corps No. 6 celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of its organization last night. The occasion was characterized by many features, the exercises being held in Loring Hall.

The regular monthly race of the Oakland navy took place Sunday on the regattary course.

At a meeting of the regents of the University of California yesterday, the finance committee recommended that the next legislature be asked to appropriate $500,000 for building purposes and the next legislature will be asked to furnish the same amount so that in four years the university buildings could be put in proper condition and the accommodations increased.

The members of the Bismalle League of California, who leave for St. Louis this evening will make the journey in a gaily decorated car, the San Felipe.

"YOU ALL" AND "THAT ALL."

"Where does that-all car go?" was the question we heard a man ask of the motorman. He was extending the use of "all" in the phrase "you all." The car was excited. He might have asked, "Where do you all go?" All did not go evidently to one place; hence the confused "that-all car." He desired to know the destination of the car.

A northerner listening would have smiled at the confirmation of the erroneous opinion held in some quarters that "you-all" is a true singular in its number. But just as the old English had a word for we-two (wit) and you-two (yit), the Southerner has "you-all" for "you and others." It is exclusive in the sense that "we" is inclusive of the speaker and of others as well. No one would accuse a person of meaning a singular who said "we went," when the others were not present. Similarly, the Southerner usage of "you all" addressed to a lone person is understood to mean "you and the others" (of a party or family).

The matter is not one of grammar, strictly speaking, but of usage. One should conform to standard usage when it is standard; but, although in such cases majorities rule, still minorities should find representation. No Northerner, Southerner or Westerner should attempt to "purify" his speech to the point of making it impossible for any one to guess his origin. A provincial flavor, if it be only a flavor, is highly desirable. But while "you all" fulfills the requirements in this respect, "that all" and "what all" are beyond the pale.—Columbia State.

FRANCHISES
COMMITTEEResettlement Plan Is Studied for Local ApplicationO. T. Problem Requires
Wide Examination of Subject

Details of the "resettlement franchise" under which the Kansas City traction lines were rehabilitated, and under which the city and the traction company in a measure became partners, sharing profits, with the city holding an option to eventually purchase the road, are today before the special investigation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which is making a comprehensive plan by which practically every point in the local traction situation is covered.

The plan was discussed in its full detail yesterday at a conference held between members of the special investigation committee, of the chamber and R. J. Dunham, one of the external receivers for the Kansas City lines at the time of their readjustment.

EARN SIX PER-CENT.
The plan gave the traction company an indefinite term franchise, up to thirty years, under which the company was permitted to earn six per cent on its investment. The remainder to be divided, two-thirds going to the city and one-third to the road. The agreement under which this franchise was arranged also provided that the city might purchase the road at any time, on six months' notice, the capital invested being protected, however, by the agreement that the city must pay for the road all money originally invested in it, before the reorganization, and all money invested in the company thereafter.

The one-third share of the surplus profits according to the company, it was held by the framers of the agreement, would in the life of the franchise return the investment of the owners, and on the city's side form a fund with which, when the road should be taken over, the city might meet all remaining obligations. These propositions were, of course, indefinite, depending on the length of the franchise, and on the time elapsing before the city should take over the road.

PLAN MUTUAL.
The roads affected in the agreement were the Kansas City Metropolitan System and the Westport lines, a system with several branches similar to the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal branches to Hayward and elsewhere.

So far the plan has proved satisfactory in every respect, Dunham declared. "Nothing originally put into the plan has had yet to be taken from it." The general principle was mutual investment of interest and co-operation, the participation of the city and the share of the profits of the road. The principle, from the side of the company, was protection to its investment.

Johnson Petition
Is Filed Locally

Containing a total of 2489 names, the nominating petition of Governor Hiram W. Johnson who is seeking the office of United States senator, was filed with County Clerk Gross today. The signatures will be certified by the county clerk who will then forward the petition to Sacramento.

The greater number of the signatures were obtained from persons who are registered as Progressives, there being 1623 as against 866 signatures of Republicans.

The verification deputies were appointed by two committees of five each from the Republican party and Progressive faction.

At the attention of the grand jury is to be called to the fact that certain deputies in several of the county offices were, while on the pay of the county, and while on duty, circulating the Johnson petitions.

Rotarians' Outing

HELPING THE MAN WITH A SALARY

A new method of selling clothing has proved itself of immeasurable benefit to thousands of deserving men in Oakland and vicinity.

The plan in brief is as follows: Any honest man may go to the Peerless Tailors at 537 Twelfth street, between Washington and Clay, and select a ready-made suit or choose the material for a suit to be made to order, pay a small amount down and the balance at $1 a week. This method of doing business has enabled men to get a better and hardly miss the money spent for clothes.

Four Entombed
56 Hours Saved
Death Thoughts Stilled
Hunger Pangs

WEBB CITY, Mo., July 19.—Four miners walked from the Babcock mine this morning after being entombed without food or water for fifty-six hours. A fire working night and day directly over the place where the men were buried penetrated their tomb, giving the prisoners fresh air and renewed strength, three hours before they were released.

Rescuers from over the entire district worked all night in fifteen-minute shifts, fearing at the timbers and rocks after hearing the shouts of the buried miners.

Two thousand persons waited at the mine all night for the delivery. When rescued the men declared the thought of death kept them from the pangs of hunger. They heard the rescuers hours before they penetrated the drift, but had lost all sense of time.

STRIKE MAY END
IN SPITE OF SPLITStevedore Vote to Return to Work Not Endorsed Along Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—A crisis in the history of the San Francisco local of the Longshoremen's Association was faced by the stevedores and riggers here today as the vote of the stevedores on the proposed compromise for settlement of the strike which has tied up waterfront activities for six weeks.

The vote of the outside unions, which showed a majority of more than 2 to 1 against acceptance of the compromise which the San Francisco longshoremen had already accepted, will be canvassed at a meeting of the local union tonight. District President J. J. Foley and local President Murphy both denied that the local union is planning to resume work, despite the vote. This denial was called forth by persistent rumors that a number of local longshoremen favored splitting with the men in the other ports and making a separate deal with the employers.

SEES END OF STRIFE.

R. C. Thackara, spokesman of the Waterfront Employers' Union, declared that his organization expects Stevedores to return to work, however.

"We gave the local longshoremen until Saturday to vote on our compromise proposition," he said. "They accepted today the vote of almost two to one, and, in spite of what stevedores in other ports have done, we expect our men to resume work."

"What the employers will do if the longshoremen here do not resume, Thackara would not say."

SEATTLE, July 19.—The board of trustees of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce voted yesterday endorsement of the petition taken by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Los Angeles in refusing to consider any settlement of the longshoremen's strike on the Pacific Coast which would involve recognition of the closed shop principle. A telegram, endorsing the Los Angeles organization's position, was sent to President Judah of the Los Angeles association.

NO COMPROMISE.
Capt. J. S. Gibson, president of the Waterfront Employers' Union, appeared before the board and explained the position of the Seattle employers. He said the employers would not consider any such compromise agreement as that arranged at San Francisco. The board voted to aid the Employers' Association in raising any funds needed to continue opposition to the strike, but no specific amount was decided upon.

The United States Immigration Commissioner Henry M. Whitely, who has been acting as federal mediator of the strike, said tonight that the outlook apparently was hopeless for an early settlement here.

No Result in Peace
Talk, Minister Says

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The minister from Switzerland, Paul Ritter, today discussed the prospects of peace in Europe with Acting Secretary of State Polk. He indicated afterward that his talk had been without tangible results.

The minister called at the State Department primarily to ask whether there was any foundation for various reports recently circulated regarding President Wilson's desire to see peace negotiations initiated. It is understood that he was informed that the attitude of the American government was unchanged.

White House officials have let it be known that the President saw no prospects of immediate developments which might make possible a move in the direction of restoring peace.

Auto Victim Is
Dragged Under Car

John Westlake owes his life today to the fact that the automobile which struck him on San Pablo avenue, near Mead, was going at a low rate of speed. Westlake, a carpenter, living at 3511 Market street, was dragged for fifteen feet under the machine, which dislocated his right shoulder and gave him extensive bruises about the body.

Westlake was riding his bicycle on the west side of San Pablo avenue when the machine, driven by Miss Mary Mead, was going at a low rate of speed. The car was moving at the rate of six miles an hour. Westlake was taken to his home immediately, where medical aid was given him.

HERMANN SONS TO DANCE.
Members of the Sons of Hermann will make merry at a dinner and dance on the evening of July 30 at Hotel Oakland. Committees are now at work on an extensive program for the evening. J. H. Engelhart is in charge of the details of the affair.

STEPHENS
GOVERNOR
UNDER PROBECongressman Named to Fill Place of Late
EshlemanElectors Must Vote to Select Appointee's
Successor

Congressman W. D. Stephens of Los Angeles, whose probable appointment as lieutenant-governor was exclusively announced in THE TRIBUNE last Tuesday, was named yesterday by the governor and has accepted. Stephens gives up an office paying $7500 per annum for a position which carries a salary of but $4000. Assured of re-election to Congress, he accepts an appointment with a rather doubtful prospect of becoming governor, although it is hinted that the delay in naming the appointee was due to Stephens' insistence that Johnson resign at an early date. This Johnson was reluctant to do, but a compromise was finally agreed upon, the terms of which have not been given out.

Stephens had one of the most important committee assignments ever held by any Californian in Congress. He was a member of the committee on naval affairs, appointment upon which committee no new member can expect. Stephens' term does not expire until March 4, 1917. Should Stephens resign immediately the names of the candidates to succeed him would go on the ballot in November for both the long and unexpired term. The governor cannot appoint to fill a vacancy in the House of Representatives. When Hon. Victor Metcalf resigned his seat in Congress to accept appointment in President Roosevelt's cabinet, the Congressional candidates went on the ballot in November for both the unexpired and regular terms.

Congressman Stephens said today he did not know how soon he will go to Sacramento to take the oath of office, as he has not yet had time to make any plans.

"My resignation as Congressman will be tendered to Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives, within a short time. However, I probably will return to Washington to close several business affairs there."

In announcing the appointment of Congressman Stephens as lieutenant-governor, Governor Johnson gave out the following statement:

"I have appointed Congressman William D. Stephens lieutenant-governor. After long and earnest consideration, I selected Mr. Stephens because he possesses those sterling qualities so well known to the people of Los Angeles, which will enable him, if he should become governor, to preserve and perpetuate California's governmental advance."

Local Optical Firm
Keeps Abreast of Times

A local optical company deserves a great deal of credit for their enterprise in bringing to the people of the Pacific Coast the newly patented "Caltech" One-piece Bifocals. These wonderful, double vision lenses are superior in every way to the old style and sometimes unsightly bifocals. They are made from one piece of clear and perfect optical glass and combine reading and distance glasses in one lens. When worn they have the appearance of regular glasses and all of the disagreeable features of the old style bifocals are eliminated. Substitutes are being offered, as remember the name and insist upon having genuine "Caltech" One-piece Bifocals. Made at the three establishments of the California Optical Co., 1221 Broadway, Oakland, and 131 Post street and 2508 Mission St., San Francisco.—Adv.

FATAL KEY ACCIDENT IS
GOVERNOR
UNDER PROBEInvestigation Launched to Determine Fault
for TragedyAxle Crystallized, Is Now
Opinion of Experts
at Work

Under the direction of W. J. Hanford, head of the service department of the State Railroad Commission, a searching examination is being made today in co-operation with officials of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad into the cause of the accident last night in which a Key Route car, jumping from the rails because of a broken axle, killed one woman, injured two others and stopped at the curb of the street, just six inches from the neck of a small girl knocked down by the shock.

Hanford began the inquiry early this morning as soon as the report of the accident reached his office. He immediately came to Oakland and spent the morning in examining the wrecked car and questioning the train crew and witnesses. His report will be presented to the members of the commission this afternoon.

The dead: Mrs. D. B. Walls, 27 years old, wife of D. B. Walls, a Petaluma poultry rancher; skull fractured; died before reaching Merritt hospital.

The injured:
Mrs. Mary Walters, mother of the dead woman; both legs broken, bad bruises and cuts; reported today on her way to recovery at Merritt hospital.
Doris Walls, 3 years old; bruises and contusions. Her escape from death was a matter of inches, the wheel of the vagrant car being six inches from her neck when it came to a stop.

Mrs. George W. Drennan, 833 Mead street; bruises and shock; condition reported good today at Providence hospital.

CAR WHIRLS.

The car, when the axle snapped, whirled about at right angles to the track, striking the women, who were standing on the street. The accident occurred two blocks from the Drennan home. Mrs. W. W. Wall, daughter and mother had been visiting Mrs. Drennan, and were returning to Petaluma. They were waiting for the car to the Key Route mole at Twenty-second and Market streets when the accident occurred.

The car approached, slowing down gradually to stop at the crossing, and then three or four feet and chills stepped off the sidewalk to the gutter, ready to board it, when suddenly the axle snapped. Mrs. Walls received the full force of the car's impact. She was hurled into the air, and the back of her head being crushed in by the blow. The other two women and the child rolled sideways, and the child rolled directly into the path of the car, which, losing force, slowed and stopped as it approached her.

Mrs. Walters is suffering from two broken legs and is badly cut and bruised. Mrs. Drennan was badly wrenched and she was otherwise bruised, and is suffering today from the effects of the shock.

Charles Fox, driver of an automobile owned by Mrs. M. Merkle, a real estate man, volunteered their automobiles to take the injured to the hospitals. Drennan, summoned hurriedly by his wife, who, despite her injury, rushed to their home nearby and informed her husband of the tragedy, accompanied the body of Mrs. Walls to the hospital. "He did not recognize her," he declared, and returned to his home. Last night she had been taken to another hospital. Her face was badly battered.

TWENTY IN CAR.
Twenty passengers were in the car. By prompt work Motorman William Stiles and Conductor Frank Stiles avoided a panic. No one in the car was hurt.

Walls and Mrs. Walls, who was Miss Irene Walters of Oakland, were riding in 1311 E. 13th street, a former supervisor of Sonoma county.

The action of the car when the accident occurred is puzzling experts. It turned to the left, and then, and, and hurtled across the street. It stopped almost within two feet of the house on the corner. The axle, it is believed, may have been partly crystallized when it supported the weight of the strain of the application of brakes. The motorman was slowing the car down and had his air on when the mishap occurred. Had the car been going at full speed, it is declared by engineers, it would have crashed into the house and probably killed several passengers.

A minute examination of the broken axle and other clues are being made today in an effort to definitely fix the cause of the accident.

Boys' Club Band in Camp in Butte County

Members of the Oakland Boys' Club band are now in camp at Chico, where they will spend a summer vacation. There are 40 boys in the party. They will be along Big creek, and several entertainments are being arranged for them by citizens. They will play in a concert to be given in a Chico theater, and the boys are guests at homes in the city.

The Boys' Band every year makes a trip to some nearby city and camps out during its vacation.

HURT IN FALL.
With a badly wrenched back, following a fall from a scaffolding on the new San Leandro school, Edward E. Riddle is in the Merritt hospital today under the care of Dr. Charles Colman. Riddle, a carpenter, was at work on the woodwork of the structure when the accident occurred. The hospital authorities say that there is no fracture, and that, with care, Riddle will be able to leave the hospital in a few days. Dr. George Colman attended to the injured man at first and then sent him to the local hospital, where he is being given special attention.

CROWDS FOR PARADE
ALL COUNTY IS READY
10,000 ARE EXPECTED

COMMITTEE TO MEET.

FORM FOOT OF MARKET.

Hayward, Niles, Pleasanton and other neighboring communities will join with Oakland in sending a big contingent to the parade. The parade in San Francisco Saturday, J. R. Munsell, chairman of the committee at work obtaining the co-operation of east bay cities, reported to the executive committee last night that, with J. C. Ady, he had visited a number of the towns in the eastern part of Alameda county and had been given the assurance of influential men that they would assist in making the Alameda county representation an outpouring of citizens from every city and town.

Munsell made arrangements to have time schedules and other information forwarded to the committee in charge in the communities visited yesterday. The committees will then organize and will co-operate with the central committee.

Munsell's committee is visiting Berkeley and Alameda today and arranging for the co-operation of these contingents with the Oakland group. Assurances have already been given that an enthusiastic reception will be given the committee by the civic bodies of the sister cities.

To facilitate the work of the Alameda county contingent in getting into line for the big parade arrangements are being made to have the marchers from this side of the bay form in the two blocks at the foot of Market street. They will take their positions immediately after leaving the ferry building if this arrangement is made.

Train No. 181 leaves Livermore at 12:55, stopping at the other cities en route and arriving on the San Francisco side of the bay at 2:50. Local groups may leave Oakland at 2:30 on the Southern Pacific special boat, which leaves from the foot of Broadway.

Should the travel justify it, another boat, the Key Route will place an additional special at the disposal of the marchers.

Slides bearing announcements of the parade and two-line patriotic mottoes will be shown at the moving picture houses, beginning tonight.

"No Dainties to Front; Help at Home"

Faneuf Asks Aid for Guards' Families

Endorsing the work being done by the Chamber of Commerce committee on military families in relieving the distress of the dependent families of National Guardsmen, Major Ralph J. Faneuf, commanding the California battalion of field artillery at Nogales, urges the citizens of Oakland to contribute to this worthy cause and refrain from sending useless delicacies to the men on the border, when there is actual want among the wives and children at home. From his tent in the Arizona camp he expresses his sentiments in emphatic language.

"I am disgusted," declared the Major, "with the fuss some people are making about sending delicacies to the soldiers, while the soldiers' wives at home are in actual want. Our boys are well fed and cared for in every way. They do not care for chocolate and candy and picnic tidbits. We are not suffering hardship of any kind, and we do not want to be petted and mollycoddled. All we ask is that the needy families at home be provided for. Let them get a few dollars to spend their money in that way—not in sending gifts to the boys here."

The question of relieving guardsmen with dependent families is receiving the careful consideration of the authorities. Many of the men at Nogales are anxious to return, if their release can be secured. Governor Johnson, the Adjutant-General and the State Board of Control are now at work on a plan whereby these men can be allowed to return home and resume their employments.

NO SURETY OF RELEASE.

But there is no certainty that their release can be secured in the near future and in the meantime the necessities of some forty-five families in Oakland must be relieved. These families are in need of food and money for fuel and rent from day to day and they have absolutely no income until the breadwinners return. Some of the cases are pitiful, indeed—aged parents who cannot care for themselves, mothers with little children whom they cannot leave unattended while they try to earn enough for food.

The relief fund has been contributed by a few friends and individuals, but only $2426.50 and it has been practically exhausted already by the demands which have been made upon it. More money is needed and the urgency cannot be exaggerated. Until the soldier fathers, husbands and sons return it is the duty of Oakland citizens to care for those who have been forced into suffering through no fault of their own, but solely because of their patriotism and loyalty.

Contributions to the relief fund have been made as follows:

Previously acknowledged	$2376.50
Brace Hayden	50.00
Total	$2426.50

SEES EARLY RELIEF IN OIL TANGLEFormer State Official
Predicts Passage of New LawMany Operators, However, Skeptical of Delay

Relief for California oil operators this year was predicted today by Francis B. Loomis, former assistant secretary of state, who has just returned from Washington. He declared the general conservation bill, which affects the state's oil interests, is certain to become a law before Christmas.

Loomis bases his statement upon information gleaned during his stay of some months in Washington, where he has been working for the passage of the bill. He declares the passage of the measure at this session was postponed as a result of an agreement between the oil men and the Democratic leaders whereby the latter promised the bill would be brought up in the Senate December 21.

Many of the oil men, however, have less faith in Democratic promises. It is realized that delays are always dangerous. During the short sessions of Congress the calendars are crowded and the least opposition to a measure spells its defeat. The oil men fear that the promises made for future action are for political effect.

Before December the elections will have been held and it is important to hold out hopes to the California oil men. The fact stands out that since December last Congress refused relief.

Farmer's Legs Are Shattered by Wheels

PLEASANTON, July 19.—Hurled beneath his wagon wheels when his horse dashed down a hill in an extraordinary race, Manuel Pereria, aged 35 years, incurred injuries which may necessitate the amputation of one or both of his legs at the Alameda Sanitarium.

Pereria, who is a farmer, was driving a team of two horses down a hill when the brakes failed to work. The horses were unable to hold back the heavy wagon on the steep grade and, terrified, ran off. Pereria made a futile attempt to stop them and was thrown from his seat beneath the wheels as the wagon careened along the road at a breakneck pace.

England to Ship Millions in Gold

Yellow Flood Is Directed
Across Atlantic

NEW YORK, July 19.—Four hundred millions in gold is coming into the United States during the next six months. The British government is planning to discharge the obligations of its firms and agents in the United States by shipment of this vast sum via Canada. About $3,000,000 a day in the yellow metal may be expected from now on, most of it coming from Ottawa.

Some will come direct to New York from London—like $20,000,000 delivered today to J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents here for the allies, which arrived on the Cunard liner Saxonia. Bankers and metallurgical experts are puzzled to know where Great Britain is obtaining the apparently inexhaustible supply of gold with which she has been flooding the United States. Concentration of gold in America has strengthened the American credit everywhere.

San Leandro, physician, Dr. J. Azevedo, Oakland.
The 1917 state convention of the S. P. R. S. I. will be held in Santa Maria.

'HONEST ADS.' FOR CITY, HIS PLEA

Exploit Community Like Business, Is Urged by Expert.

Taking as his text the "home letter," issued by the Oakland Bank of Savings to show accurately the progress of Oakland in all lines, Henry A. Lafler, publicity expert, has started in the advertising bureau of the Chamber of Commerce a movement toward "honesty in community advertising," which today is being developed and which will probably be one of the important pieces of work during the coming year under the direction of the new chairman of the bureau, to be appointed tomorrow night.

The address outlining the need of "honesty in community advertising" was made yesterday before the weekly luncheon of the Chamber.

"The merchant," declared Lafler, "has long recognized the necessity of honesty in advertising, but communities have been prone—perhaps not through intent—to exaggerate their good points. For instance, there is no use saying we have the finest climate in the world. There are others as good, and we know it."

PARALLEL IN BUSINESS.
What a community, just as a business, should do to make its advertising valuable is to advertise in facts. The advertising of business would be lost if it were permitted to make extravagant claims. This same trouble has decreased the value of community advertising.

"Realizing this, the Oakland Bank of Savings has issued a circular setting forth in explicit terms all details of Oakland's progress.

"Taking, for instance, the bank earnings. These show a steady gain since 1908, when they dropped below the figure of 1907, and this gain continued until 1914, when the figure dropped from $188,720.09 to $176,004.02. In 1915 we note a rise to $181,466.82, and in the first half of this year, $103,070.07. Doing this, or figuring this ratio for the next six months, would swell the figures above everything Oakland has ever seen in its history."

POSTOFFICE A GAUGE.
The postoffice receipts show a steady gain, beginning in 1910, before which, from the artificial stimulus of 1907, they fell off. For the past six months all records have been broken, and the ratio for the next six months will show a most wonderful gain. This gain is official, and means population and business.

"But the most remarkable significance is in the factories. For the first six months of this year the new factories have brought the total up to almost twice as much as last year and about four times the increase of any other year.

"The present remarkably good conditions in Oakland are not due to the new factories, as they have not started yet. The indications show that Oakland is, without a doubt, on the eve of a wonderful era of development and prosperity even greater than the great period of 1912."

"People can play poker on the sidewalk or in a window at the corner of Fourteenth and Broadway in full view of the public and within view of the central police station if they want to," said Chief Peterson. "I cannot stop them. There is nothing in the statutes or the city ordinances which gives the officers of the peace the right to prohibit so-called gambling at poker, bridge-whist or what not so long as it is not a percentage game. There can be money on the table, and at the end of each deal the winnings can be taken and the losses paid—that is not a violation of the law."

TO DISCUSS LEASE.
The proposed F. L. Lease and improvement of the Oakland water front will be discussed tonight before the Civic Association, which will meet in the Bacon building to look into the details of the plan. Dr. Clarence Edwards will speak for Smith in the matter. Mayor John L. Davis and E. L. Vander Nalven, engineer, will also be heard.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN OF FILMS PASSES 'THE CRUCIAL TEST'

Kitty Gordon Appears in Russian Revolutionary Role

Beautiful Kitty Gordon, the charming and fascinating actress, is again in Oakland, this time she is at T. D. & D. Oakland Photo Theater in a drama of Russian revolutionism, entitled "The Crucial Test." Beginning with today, she will be here for the rest of the week. The play shows that the greatest test to which a woman can be subjected and to which she freely offers herself, that her husband's future, his independence, his very existence, in fact, may be secured. Throughout the story there is mingled the plot of a Russian Nihilist band seeking the life of the Grand Duke of Russia, a fascinating and interesting theme.

On the same program is Myrtle Steadman in "The American Beauty" and Miss Billie Burke in the tenth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," entitled "The Fugitive Witness."

Comedy, thrills and delightful surprises are in "The American Beauty," a photoplay of extraordinary power.

FLOODS REGEDE; DAMAGE IS HEAVY

Carolina Disaster Death List
Thirty-four So Far; Villages Wrecked.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 19.—Flood waters in the Carolinas and portions of adjacent states are rapidly receding, leaving in their wake a property loss variously estimated at from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, and a list of deaths from drowning that has steadily increased since the waters rose Sunday. Today the toll of human life stood at thirty-four, with prospects that it might be increased still further.

The small villages in Rutherford county, North Carolina, known as Chimney Rock and Bat Cave, suffered severe damage from the volume of water that swept down the narrow valley of the Rocky River. According to meager reports reaching here, the terms each of which has a hundred or more inhabitants, are more than twenty-five miles from a railroad and without wire communication.

From Sparta, N. C., came a report that persons arriving there said almost all of Chimney Rock was washed away and that there was no sign of its inhabitants. It was pointed out, however, that they might have reached high ground in time to save themselves. Eight persons were said to have been drowned at Bat Cave.

Loss to railroads, industrial plants and agricultural interests in North and South Carolina has mounted into the millions and it may be weeks before the transportation system is restored. Nearly all passengers marooned since Sunday on trains in this section had been removed today, however, and in many localities repair work was being rushed and thousands of cotton mill spindles were beginning to turn again.

Conditions in Virginia and West Virginia were almost normal today and great loss was not feared to the coast section of South Carolina.

AVIATOR IS KILLED.
LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Fred Nappin of Winnipeg, Man., Canada, who came here recently to prepare for aviation service in the Canadian army, is dead from injuries received Sunday when he made a bad landing after a practice flight.

$20,000 Fund, Hidden by Lyman, Is Found

NEW YORK, July 19.—Twenty thousand dollars, which, it is alleged, was hidden in safety deposit vaults in Newark, N. J., by Dr. John Grant Lyman, convicted and sentenced to the federal prison at Atlanta for swindles prosecuted through the mails, has been discovered and added to Lyman's assets, according to an announcement here last night. John L. Lytle, who was appointed receiver for Lyman, said that approximately $20,000 has been received by him. Of this amount $20,500 was realized from investments in Florida. The receiver also has in his possession securities of the United States Steel Corporation and Du Pont Powder Company, owned by Lyman, which it is said probably will add $35,000 to Lyman's assets.

Coffee you like to serve

MANY a meal that hasn't gone just right is saved by good coffee at its close. To look forward and know that your coffee will be a little extra—it is a comfort sometimes and peace of mind always.

Schilling's is coffee you are sure of; not only good, but fine, and always fine. Its rich flavor is developed to the full in roasting; then it is ground and sent to you in vacuum-sealed tins, so that the prime richness is all served from your pot. And this has an important effect:

Because of its great wealth of flavor, Schilling's Coffee is economical; you make more good cups from a pound than from ordinary coffees.

Sold through grocers only.
40 cents a pound.
